Lista akreditovanih časopisa

- Mnogi Univerziteti koriste listu akreditovanih časopisa
- Časopisi moraju da ispunjavaju određene kriterijume da bi bili uključeni na listu akreditovanih časopisa
- Osnovni kriterijumi:
 - Međunarodni
 - Double-blind recenziranje
 - Izlaze regularno (nema kašnjenja u izdavanju)

Accredited Journals

The following lists are regarded as accredited journals by the Department of Education (DoE)
Journals appearing on the IBSS

- International Bibliography of the Social Sciences \(IBSS\)

Journals appearing on the 3 indices of the ISI:

- Science Citation Index
- Social Sciences Citation Index
- Arts and Humanities Citation Index

List of approved South African journals

Journals which do not appear in the above mentioned international indices but whose seat of publication is in South Africa and which meet specific criteria (also available below), can be included in this list.

- Minimum criteria to be eligible for inclusion in the list of approved journals \(.doc\)
- List of approved South African journals as maintained by the DoE \(.pdf\)

Output and Impact

Open Access

Open Access strives to provide fast, world-wide dissemination of research results at no cost, while retaining authors' copyrights. This increased access means enhanced visibility, impact and use of researchers' published work. Are you a researcher? Learn more about how Open Access can increase your impact.

Bibliometrics

Using mathematical and statistical methods, bibliometrics investigate the way in which knowledge is developed and distributed.

One of its applications is the quantification of research output for evaluation purposes and policy support, making use of an array of indicators (most commonly publications, citations, patents, PhD's etc.). The BOF-allocation model (ECOOM) and the bibliometric section of applications with the Special Research Fund \(BOF\) of the KU Leuven make use of this type of analysis.

Rankings

Lirias

Lirias \(Leuven Institutional Repository and Information Archiving System\) is the institutional repository of the KU Leuven Association. Research output (metadata and uploaded files) are archived, indexed and (in some cases) digitally distributed.

Publishing

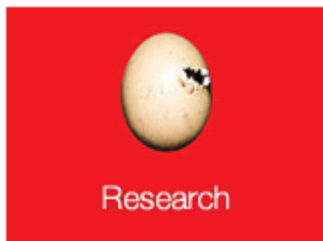

Publishing ("traditionally" or digitally) is a commitment of every researcher. It is the only way to communicate research to peers and to a wider audience. Publications are also a key factor in the evaluation of individual or departmental research output.

The KU Leuven Association has developed a list of predefined publication categories \(pdf\). The bibliometric section of applications with the Research Coordination Office makes use of these same categories. While until recently output indexed in the Web of Science was specifically taken into account, the Vlaams Academisch Bibliografisch Bestand \(VABB\) now provides an additional validated database for the Arts & Humanities and the Social Sciences.

In order to guarantee that KU Leuven publications are identified in various databases, it is mandatory to mention a correct KU Leuven address. Some basic rules are explained here.

Međunarodni časopisi

- Internacionalizacija:
 - Imaju međunarodni urednički odbor
 - Međunarodne recezente
- Double-blind recenzija:
 - Recezenti su stručnjaci iz oblasti
 - Autori ne znaju ko recenzira njihov rad
 - Recezenti ne znaju čiji rad recenziraju
- Visok nivo objektivnosti

U kom časopisu da publikujem?

- Ako Univerzitet nema listu akreditovanih časopisa
 - Provjeriti na sajtovima časopisa da li je časopis međunarodni i da li ima recenziju
- Ipak – ovo su minimalni kriterijumi
- Ipak je bolje objaviti u časopisu koji se međunarodno visoko rangira – zauzima određeno mjesto na međunarodnim listama rangiranja časopisa

Kako naći odgovarajući časopis?

- Biblioteke
- ISI Web of Knowledge
- Web of Science
- Google Scholar
- Baze
- Editori

Rangiranje časopisa

- Široko prihvaćeno u akademskim krugovima u evaluiranju uticaja i kvaliteta nekog časopisa
- Namjera je da se reflektuje mjesto nekog časopisa u određenoj naučnoj oblasti, relativnu težinu publikovanja u tom časopisu, i prestíž koji je nosi publikovanje u tom časopisu

Kako izmjeriti rang nekog časopisa?

- Bazirano na Impakt faktoru – odražava broj citata u naučnim časopisima (kvantitativni način mjerenja)
- Bazirano na Ekspertskom Istraživanju (Expert survey) – odražava kvalitet časopisa, bazirano na pregledu od strane naučnika, studenata i drugih koji ocjenjuju radove na osnovu specifičnih kriterijuma (kvalitativni način mjerenja, jer je baziran na sadržaju/kvalitetu samih radova)

Međunarodno značajna: Web of Science baza

- Web of Science sastoji se od 7 online baza (o.a. Science Citation Index, Social Sciences Citation Index and Arts and Humanities Citation Index) – koje uključuju visoko rangirane časopise
- Web of Sciences koristi Impact factor (znači broj citata) da dizajnira gore nevedene baze

Web of Science

- Uspostavljen je od strane Thomson Reuters (jedna Američka firma za medje i informacije)
- Uključuje oko 12,000 međ. časopisa
- Kako da znate da li je neki časopis uključen u jednu od citatnih baza Web of Science?

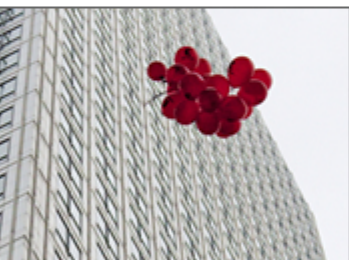

Web of Science

- Rangiranje časopisa donosi korist – to je indikator kvaliteta i kredibilnosti nekog časopisa
- WoS je dosta kontraverzan:
 - Broj citata ne mora da reflektuje stvarni kvalitet rada
 - Samocitiranje (Self-citations)
 - Časopisi objavljuju dosta preglednih radova koji se više citiraju
 - Razlike između različitih disciplina (oblasti nauke sa velikim brojem WoS časopisa; kraći vs duži članci)

Open access časopisi

- Časopisi koji omogućuju slobodan pristup putem interneta objavljenim naučnim radovima
- Veća vidljivost radova i autora zato što su radovi slobodno dostupni
- Neki časopisi postoje samo online, drugi još uvijek imaju i štampanu verziju ali stavljaju radove online odmah poslije publikovanja

Citiranje

- Necitiran: neiskorišćene informacije, slab kvalitet
- Često citiran: dobar prijem, visok kvalitet
- Samocitiranje: dio naučne komunikacije, manipulacija impaktom

Citiranje i navođenje

- Navođenje: šta je neko drugi rekao ili napisao; često sa znacima navoda.
- Citiranje: pozivanje na izvor gdje ste našli citat. U bibliografiji onda možete naći naziv, izdavača, ... date knjige.

Citiranje i navođenje

As O'Connor and Arnold (1973: 5) state, “every utterance we make contains in its intonation some indication of attitude”.

- Navođenje: “every utterance we make contains in its intonation some indication of attitude.”
- Citiranje: (1973: 5)

Lične performanse citiranosti : h-index

Razvio ga je Prof. H. Hirsch, University of California, San Diego

- Predstavlja jednostavan način za ocjenjivanje nekog autora u toku određenog perioda
- Kvantifikuje uticaj i količinu individualnih istraživačkih performansi
- H-index koreliše sa brojem citata, impakt faktorima, brojem publikacija
- Naučnik ima indeks h ako je h njegovih/njenih radova ima najmanje po h citata a svaki od ostalih radova ima manje od h citata

Citiranje: h-index

Primjer:

Prof. XXX je napisao 150 radova i ima h-index 15;
To znači da ima 15 radova koji imaju bar po 15 citata a svaki od ostalih radova imaju manje od 15 citata

Uloga i svrha citata

- Citati se koriste da se prepoznaju i priznaju intelektualna prava svojine autora. Oni su stvar etike i odbrana od plagijata.
- Citati se koriste da se pokaže poštovanje prema prethodnim autorima. Oni priznaju istoriju te naučne oblasti priznavanjem prethodnih dostignuća.
- Citati djeluju kao neka vrsta uzajamnog sistema nagrađivanja. Umjesto da plate drugim autorima za njihov doprinos, pisci ih “plaćaju” u citatima.

Uloga i svrha citata

- Citati su sredstvo ubjeđivanja; naučnici koriste citate da svojim iskazima daju veći autoritet.
- Citiranje se koristi za obezbjeđivanje dokaza da je autor kvalifikovan kao pripadnik izabrane akademske zajednice; citatai se koriste da se pokaže lično poznavanje date oblasti.
- Citatati se koriste za kreiranje istraživačkog prostora za autore koji citiraju. Opisivanjem onoga što je urađeno, citati ukazuju na ono što nije urađeno i tako pripremaju prostor za nova istraživanja..

Citiranje i navođenje

Postoji četiri osnovna tipa citiranja & navođenja

1. Navođenje unutar rečenice (Within-sentence quotations)

As claimed by Kim (1999: 10), "The World Trade Organization still has many obstacles to overcome, particularly with regard to decision-making processes."

2. Blok i uvučena navođenja (Block and indented quotations)(za navođenja veća od 40 riječi)

As Kim (1999: 55) has indicated:

"Although the WTO is a major improvement over the old GATT system, it is still a young organization and leaves much to be desired. Mostly, the organization lacks both the competence and the resources to deal with new trade areas such as investment and information; its formal and binding structure as well as rigid decision-making process hinders and even sometimes blocks any harmonization effort in new trade-related areas."

Citing and quoting

3. Parafraziranje/Sažetak (Paraphrase / Summary)

According to Kim (1999: 10), the World Trade Organization needs to improve the processes by which decisions are made.

4. Generalizacija (kombinujući nekoliko izvora)

The ways in which decisions are made within the World Trade Organization are typically inefficient (Mitchell, 1997; Kim, 1998; Kim, 1999; Kirgis, 1999).

Citiranje i reference

- Razlikuju se između različitih akademskih disciplina
 - Pravnički radovi: koriste veliki broj futnota (footnotes)
 - Arhitektura: rade sa endnotama (endnotes)
 - Umjetnost: reference u tekstu, spisak referenci na kraju rada
- Najvažnije: morate biti konzistentni u načinu na koji citirate i navodite knjige, radove, poglavlja u knjigama.

Primjer: pravnički radovi

Often the process involves the structuring or restructuring of the political landscape of a nation. Often it happens at a rapturous moment, a “constitutional moment”.[1] With regard to ‘national character’, Daniel Elazar [2] identifies three types of polities, namely 1) those formed through conquest; 2) those formed through evolution; and 3) those formed through design, i.e., ‘reflection and choice’.[3]

See generally also Andras Sajó, Limiting Government: An Introduction to Constitutionalism. Budapest and New York: Central European University Press, 1999.

[2] Daniel Elazar, Federalism and the Way to Peace. Queens: Center for Intergovernmental Relations, 1994, Chs I and II. See also his “Constitution-making: The Pre-eminently Political Act” pp.2-5

[3] Elazar identifies the three types of polities following the tack of Alexander Hamilton in the Federalist Papers (No.1). See A. Hamilton, James Madison, and John Jay, The Federalist Papers (No.1) (eds C. Rossiter and C. Kesler). New York: Mentor, 1999, p. 1. For Elazar’s reference to The Federalist No.1, see his Exploring Federalism. Tuscaloosa: University of Alabama Press, 2006 (1987), p.2.

The city possesses a remarkable urban and architectural legacy that has already been object of historical research, publications and exhibitions in the last decade.[1]

Consisting of an exhibition of photographs, a conference and a series of guided tours, the initiative aimed at “sensibiliser la population à la qualité architecturale de la ville, et pour sa prise en compte dans l’aménagement urbain”.[2] Currently, the French Ministry of Culture is preparing an architectural guide for the city.[3] Since 2006, a similar initiative has been undertaken within the architectural school of La Cambre in Brussels.[4]

Primjer: lingvistički rad

- The HRV testimonies can be defined as ‘hidden transcripts’ (Scott, 1990) – transcripts that circulate within a certain group of people, discourses about these people, the others and the relationship between both groups (for a detailed analysis of the relation between the term ‘hidden transcripts’ and TRC narratives, see Vandergucht, 2003 and Blommaert, Bock & McCormick, 2006).
- Hence, for Bakhtin every utterance is “the product of the reciprocal relationship between the addresser and the addressee” (Morson, 1986a: 4). Every utterance is connected with possible replies of the addressee, resulting in significant decisions of the speaker at the time of producing discourse (Holquist, 1986: 64-66).

Prirodne nauke

Postoji nekoliko različitih sistema za pisanje liste referenci i citiranja u tekstu :

- Harvard stil;

- Chicago stil;

- Skoro svaki časopis ima svoj poseban stil; provjeriti “Instructions to authors” međunarodnih časopisa (na njihovom veb sajtu).

Harvard stil pisanja referenci : opšte

- Sadrži samo korišćene reference citirane u tekstu dokumenta; “Bibliografija” uključuje čitav korišćeni materijal
- Autori raspoređeni alfabetski; ako nema autora, navode se po nazivu (prva značajna riječ);
- Više referenci istog autora: rasporediti hronološki (prvo najmlađe reference);
- Za svaku referencu nova linija;
- Ne uvlačiti reference;
- Ne numerisati reference.

- Imajte na umu da tuđe ideje nijesu tvoje, čak i kada ih u potpunosti izražavate svojim riječima i strukturom rečenica. Ideje i činjenice zahtjevaju priznanje.

Znati ono što ne treba da se prizna

- Zajedničko znanje: Zajedničko znanje sastoji se od standardnih informacija na polju istraživanja, kao i narodne književnosti i zdravorazumskog posmatranja. Standardne informacije uključuju glavne činjenice iz istorije. Narodna književnost, uključuje legende i mnoge bajke koje su populano poznate i ne treba ih niti se mogu pripisati određenom piscu. Zdravorazumska opažanja su stvari koje većina ljudi zna, kao na primjer da je inflacija najviše pogađa ljude sa malim primanjima.

Znati ono što ne treba da se prizna

- Uvijek morate da priznate tuđi nezavisni materijal – to su sve činjenice i ideje koje nisu opšte poznate ili nijesu vaše. Izvor može biti bilo šta, uključujući knjigu, film, intervju, veb stranicu, postavljanje informacije na grupi za diskusiju, pa čak i mišljenje izneseno na radiju.
- Morate priznati tuđi materijal bez obzira kako ga koristite, koliko toga koristite i koliko često ga koristite.

Plagiranje

- Pozivanje na izvor samo na početku poglavlja NIJE DOVOLJNO
- Navođenje izvora samo u spisku referenci NIJE dovoljno
- Takođe i u odnosu na riječi i ideje na drugom jeziku
- Uvijek koristite znake navoda u slučaju bukvalnog citiranja
- Pogledati www.indiana.edu/~tedfrick/plagiarism

Plagiranje na UCG

- Plagiranje je redovno prisutno u diplomskim i magistarskim radovima
- Od iduće godine software koji će omogućiti da se otkrije plagiranje
- Provjerava samo digitalne izvore
