

Call for Participation

Aim: SSIP is a traditional event, arrived at its 27th edition, organized yearly with the aim of offering to students and young researchers interested in image processing the opportunity to attend lectures given by experts in the field, to work in international teams on exciting projects and to present their own results related to image processing and computer vision. The SSIP programme is structured such that besides attending lectures, usually in the morning, the students also work in international teams on a project assignment, usually in the afternoon. The projects are evaluated by a committee of lecturers. The students interested to present their own work on related topics can do this in a special session organized in the end of the summer school. All participants will receive an attendance certificate stating their participation at lectures, at team project activity and passing the final test. Participation at SSIP is recognized by several universities as a special PhD course.

Application: The school is open to about 40 motivated and pre-selected candidates. Graduate and PhD students, post-docs and young researchers (both from academia and industry) are encouraged to apply.

Student Session: SSIP provides the opportunity for participants to present their research in short talks. The interest in giving a short talk should be specified in the application form.

Accommodation: Participants can arrange their accommodation by themselves. A limited number of rooms in a student hostel are available.

Costs: Registration fee: EUR 150 (it covers participation at school, snacks during breaks, lunch and gala dinner).

Accommodation in double/single rooms in the student hostel: 15/25 EUR (per person per night). Participants from institutions which are in CEEPUS are advised to apply for a CEEPUS scholarship.
