

ICM 2022

Saint-Petersburg

01 ICM 2022

Dates: July 6-14, 2022.

Location: Saint-Petersburg,
a beautiful city with rich cultural traditions and mathematical history.

Web site: icm2022.org, in particular the NEWS section.

Saint-Petersburg will extend its warm hospitality to all people from every corner of the world, regardless of their customs or traditions.

All registered ICM participants will have a visa-free entry.

We want everyone to feel welcome!

02 Activities

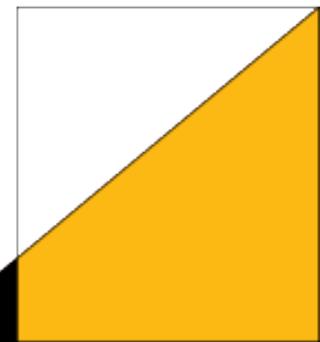

One of the largest ICMs with over 5000 participants.

Exciting scientific and cultural programmes.

Large number of satellite conferences both in Russia and in neighbouring countries.

Summer schools for junior participants.

Activities aimed at early career mathematicians, events promoting women and other underrepresented groups in mathematics.

03 Ladyzhenskaya medal

2022 will mark the 100th birthday of Olga Ladyzhenskaya. A new medal in mathematical physics will be awarded every 4 years to recognize “revolutionary results in or with applications to mathematical physics”.

Submit nominations to Prof. Giovanni Felder, Chair of the 2022 Prize Committee at giovanni.felder@math.ethz.ch.

04 Travel support

Chebyshev grants will offer comprehensive support to 1000 participants from developing countries.

Kovalevskaya grants will complement Chebyshev grants by bringing 1000 junior mathematicians from the developed world to the ICM.

We very much hope that these grants will greatly boost the participation of early career mathematicians in the ICM.

05 Kovalevskaya grants: how it works

We want to award 1000 grants in partnership with national mathematical societies and funding agencies. 500 grants are allocated for Europe.

The ICM Local Organizing Committee will cover all local expenses: lodging, transportation, registration fee, and organize logistics.

We are asking our partner organizations in Europe:

- to advertise the program, collect applications and select grant recipients,
- to fund travel to St. Petersburg (in cooperation with other agencies and candidates' home institutions).
