English at the Faculty of Economics

MISSION Educating future leaders in the process of building a modern economic and business environment on national, regional, and global levels.

VISION Faculty of Economics is the elite higher education institution for providing the economics and business knowledge, skills, and abilities that will provoke scientific curiosity as a precondition for the progress of society.

Dean's Message

Dear colleagues, future modern multilingual economist,

It gives me great pleasure and pride to welcome you to the Faculty of Economics as you open a new chapter in your life.

Attending the Academic program in Business and Economics in English, as the first accredited undergraduate program in English at the University of Montenegro, gives you a unique opportunity to learn from outstanding educators and experts who are involved in research on topical issues in the field of economics. I am sure that there are multiple factors that will motivate you to choose the Academic program in Business and Economics in English at our Faculty. Perhaps you are impressed with our national reputation in education, research, and knowledge transfer. Moreover, it could be the fact that the Faculty of Economics is strongly committed to the international dimension of education and research in today's globally interconnected world. We cultivate extensive international links with over 70 universities and higher education institutions. As part of this cooperation, we organize both student and staff mobility. The Faculty offers a range of lifelong learning courses and programs helping students to update and expand their skills and qualifications, offering a valuable competitive advantage on the job market. Degrees with internship programs open the door to new opportunities and give you insights into the world of work that you couldn't get in the classroom. When you choose to study at the Faculty of Economics, you can complete internships alongside your course. Upon graduation, you will be a member of the modern economists' alumni and start to create a difference in business society!

It is important to note that our reputation and tradition have been the fruits of the diligence and dedication of all members of the Faculty of Economics community since 1960.

Dear students, please accept my highest appreciation to all of you who choose to join the big family of the Faculty of Economics. I sincerely wish you a most rewarding and unforgettable university journey.

Welcome!
