SECOND CALL FOR PAPERS

The XIV International Conference on Anglo-American Literary Studies
Nikšić, Montenegro, June 28-29, 2018

RECLAIMING / RENAMING HISTORIES

Dear colleagues,

The aim of our conference is to discuss the processes of how we claim and reclaim our histories, reconstruct them, name and rename them, how social and political discourses work, how our memory works. We don't only seek the papers that deal with national histories, but also WITH those individual stories, as presented in the works of literature, art, and cultural performance in general. We are mostly interested in the works developed in English speaking countries. However, for the purpose of comparison of how individuals and groups manage these issues in the globalized world, we will also welcome papers dealing with other communities.

We are honoured to announce that our key-note lecturer will be LeAnne Howe, Edison Distinguished Professor at the University of Georgia.

We are glad that the Journal of Balkan and Near East Studies (JBNES), which is indexed in the Thomson Reuters Social Sciences Citation Index® offered to publish a selection of the papers presented at the conference. For more information about the journal, please check:
(<http://www.tandfonline.com/action/journalInformation?show=aimsScope&journalCode=cjsb20>).

Selection of papers will also be published in Folia linguistica at literaria, a journal which is sponsored by the Faculty of Philology, and also indexed in Thomson Reuters' Emerging Sciences Citation Index, CEEOL (Central and Eastern European Online Library), MLA International Bibliography, and also introduced in the list of recommended journals made by the Italian Ministry of Education (MIUR). For more information on the journal, please consult: www.folia.ac.me.

Abstracts of up to 300 words, including the author's name, affiliation, and email, should be sent to Marija Krivokapić (marija13a@gmail.com) or Aleksandra Nikčević-Batrićević (alexmontenegro@t-com.me). The deadline for submissions is May 1, 2018.

The conference fee is 80 euros payable upon registration. It includes conference material, the book of abstracts (indexed by the Montenegrin National Library), refreshments, conference dinner, and an excursion.
