Work and Travel Program Rules Acknowledgement

I understand that I have to arrive to my employer on the date, which I agree with CHI during the interview process. I will work for the full duration until the end date, again as I agree with CHI during the interview process.

I understand that I must follow the instructions given to me by CHI regarding housing. I will not arrive at my employer unannounced with my luggage. I will provide my flight details to my agency, to my employer, and CHI. I understand that if the housing is mandatory, I will stay there for the duration of my program.

I understand that all employment arrangements made by me, with the help of CHI, prior to my arrival, are subject to change or cancellation.

I understand that I am responsible for applying for a Social Security Number and providing it to my employer. If I experience problems or delay with the SSN, I need to contact CHI immediately for assistance.

I understand that my CHI-arranged job will be my primary commitment and will have priority before any second jobs.

I understand that I must receive authorization from CHI before starting a second job and that failure to do so may result in termination from the WT program.

I understand that every job requires some lifting, cleaning or physical activity. I understand that I am taking a job, which I can perform successfully and I do not have any physical limitations or illness to prevent me from doing my job. I also will not select a job in an area that would not be desirable or conducive to my health, ex. High altitude (mountainous areas), cold climates (ski resorts or Northern States).

Although federal program regulations state participants cannot be held in a job against their will, CHI's program policy requires participants to communicate directly with both their employer AND CHI to give a one week notice in writing which indicates when they plan to leave their job placement and their reason for leaving. Should the participant "no call/no show" at the work placement, this action will be considered a violation of the program sponsor's (CHI) rules, and may result in a participant's negative program status. Participants must consult with CHI before taking any action to leave their job.
