

Navigating Pathways: Digital Transformation of Industry

Ulysseus R&I Conference 2025

Monday, 20 October 2025 | Technical University of Košice

Call for Speakers

Participation and Application

Join us for a hands-on, practical conference to explore the current trends in the digital transformation of industry in various fields of research and technology. This event encourages researchers, innovators, and startups to converge and share insights under three focused tracks: Digital Transformation of Industry, Universities as a Driving Force of Digital Innovations, Sustainability of Digitalisation.

The conference aims to emphasise and discuss the importance of the development of science, technology, and innovation and the connection between academia and industry. We want to build a bridge between science and practice.

For more information about the Ulysseus R&I Conference 2025, please see the conference website.

Your contribution in the form of presentation in any of the parallel session more than welcome. The presentations will be conducted in physical format, in the extent of 20 minutes with following 10 minutes for discussion.

How to Apply

If you wish to participate with your presentation, please fill in the Speaker Application Form: <https://forms.office.com/e/pJHS77YfzE>.

Deadline for submission of Speaker Application Form: 15 June 2025

Notification deadline: 15 July 2025

If you have suggestions for potential researchers, startups or innovators who might be relevant to our conference, or if you are personally involved in these areas and are interested in participating in our tracks with your presentation, please reach out to us.
